

Bb

Di Grine Kuzine

Abe Schwartz

A ♩ = 100
Em Pattern: AABB AABBA AA

Bm F#7 Bm B7

9 Em Am B7 Em Am

17 Em Am B7 Last time to Coda Em Em 1. 2.

26 B Em

36 Em Am B7 Em 1. 2.

45 typical klezmer ending

"Di Grine Kuzine" (The Greenhorn Cousin) is a Yiddish song expressing the disillusionment of Jewish immigrants who arrived in America with dreams of a "golden land" but instead encountered harsh economic realities and difficult living conditions. The "greenhorn" refers to a naive newcomer, and the song contrasts the ideal with the bitter reality of sweatshops and hardship, reflecting the immigrant experience in the early 20th century.