

Trombone

Di Grine Kuzine

Abe Schwartz

A $\text{♩} = 100$
 Pattern: AABB AABB AA

9 Dm Gm A7 Dm Gm

17 Dm Gm A7 Last time to Coda Dm 1. 2.

26 B Dm

36 Dm Gm A7 Dm 1. 2.

45 ♩ typical klezmer ending

"Di Grine Kuzine" (The Greenhorn Cousin) is a Yiddish song expressing the disillusionment of Jewish immigrants who arrived in America with dreams of a "golden land" but instead encountered harsh economic realities and difficult living conditions. The "greenhorn" refers to a naive newcomer, and the song contrasts the ideal with the bitter reality of sweatshops and hardship, reflecting the immigrant experience in the early 20th century.